

Site Plan

The final masterplan organizes housing clusters along a continuous pedestrian and landscape network, establishing a strong relationship between the existing urban fabric, the creek corridor and the waterfront.
Shared green spaces are integrated between the housing clusters, while the landscaped creek forms the main recreational spine of the site. Pedestrian routes extend this network towards the coastal public spaces, connecting the residential areas with the waterfront and reinforcing continuity across the site.