Initial Design Development

Early studies exploring the main pedestrian axis, building clusters and the relationship with the surrounding urban fabric.

